<Kizmeet your match>

Life is filled with missed connections: the time you walked out of Starbucks kicking yourself for not talking to the hot girl in line behind you, or the day that gorgeous, tall-dark-and-handsome guy sat next to you on the T and you never worked up the courage to say hello. But Kizmeet, which recently launched in eight cities — including Boston — believes in second chances. Visit www.kizmeet.com, upload your story, and hope your mystery crush will happen upon it. Or peruse postings by location — “Bars, Clubs, and Dining,” “Gyms,” “On the Move,” and “Coffee Shops,” among others — and see if anyone had a missed connection with you.
